

Maintenance of the Collection

Library materials will be periodically examined to maintain a balanced collection. When materials are deemed no longer useful or needed, the library will discard them at the discretion of the library director. Withdrawn materials may be sold to the general public with proceeds benefiting the library.